The Heritage Garden Interpretive Program at Fort Edmonton Park consists of growing heritage varieties of annuals and perennials in our onsite greenhouse; developing an interpretive plan which outlines the garden designs; plant material representative of the historical gardener or era in which it is located; research; following heritage planting and gardening through the interpretive program.

What started out 15 years ago as one simple vegetable garden has expanded into 5 market gardens, four feature theme gardens and two farm gardens! Fort Edmonton Park employs three full-time gardeners, and they rely heavily on the valuable assistance of the Heritage Garden volunteers.
